Come down to Brighton for our Event Photography Workshop run by award winning photographer Heather Buckley. Held during Brighton's "Fringe City" event, you'll get a presentation and discussion about event photography at Silicon Beach Training before going down the road to put your skills to the test.

In this creative design training course you will learn how to see and find opportunities, what to look out for, and learn techniques you can rely on.

You will be challenged to demonstrate some chosen objectives, have some fun and experiment.

You will be asked to focuses on creative ideas; however Heather will be available all day for those who need more practical help with their camera.

We have lunch together (pre-booked reasonably priced restaurant not included in price)

There will be a lot to take images of; you'll be encouraged to think differently, the objective will be to get something different.

We have time to go back to Silicon Beach to review and discuss our achievements. Heather will
