What is IOSH Managing Safely Training?

Health and Safety Training is becoming an ever more important consideration for businesses of all sizes.

Providing staff with an accredited Health and Safety course can reduce insurance premiums, increase productivity and profitability, and save money on work-related health issues.

This comprehensive 4-day IOSH Managing Safely training course is accredited by the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) and is designed to provide delegates with the knowledge and tools to manage the health and safety issues they are responsible for.

This Health & Safety training course is suitable for managers and supervisors in any sector and anyone who is responsible for management of risk and resources in the workplace.

Our public courses run at our training centre in Brighton. We also provide private and in-company IOSH Managing Safely courses. Call +44 (0)1273 622272 to discuss your requirements.

We also run a 1-day IOSH Introduction to Risk Assessment course.

IOSH Managing Safely Training Assessment

At the end of our IOSH Managing Safely training course, you will need to carry out the following:

- A practical assessment of your workplace
- A 20 minute multi-format question exam

Once you've completed these, you will gain your IOSH accredited Managing Safely Certificate.

Silicon Beach Training runs IOSH Managing Safely Training in association with KRW Risk Management Solutions Ltd.
