

Introduction to Management

This 1-day Introduction to Management training course educates aspiring Managers on how to manage small teams utilising motivational and cohesive team building strategies in collaboration with an established leadership style.

Objective

This Management Introduction training course intends to enhance knowledge of successful and evidence-based Management practices and principles - boosting productivity, motivation, and consequently financial rewards.

Details

Duration: 1 Day

Who is this course for

There are no prerequisites for this training course - this course is available for everyone looking to enhance their knowledge of Management practices and principles, regardless of their industry.

Course Content

- What does Management Entail?
- Delegating Roles
- Management Roles
- Attributes of Successful Managers
- Overcoming Challenges
- Management Self-Assessment
- Importance of Self-Confidence
- Organisation of Oneself
- Organisation of the Team Processes
- Discovering the Difference between Preferred and Required Leadership Styles
- Effective Communication Strategies
- Team Development and Cohesion

