After passing your MSP® Foundation exam, you need to sit the MSP Practitioner exam to gain the full MSP Practitioner qualification.

What is MSP® Practitioner Conversion Training?

Upgrade the skills gained on the Foundation training course and learn how to apply them to the Practitioner exam with MSP Practitioner Conversion training in Brighton.

Our expert accredited trainers will make sure that you don't just pass your course but you also learn how to apply the MSP principles to real life situations.

By passing your MSP Practitioner exam you will gain the most highly sought after qualification for programme managers and will be able to confidently run programmes.

3 weeks before the training course we send you our bespoke accredited MSP training materials. This gives you plenty of time to prepare for the training course; in our experience this leads to much higher pass rates.

Download our MSP Exam tips eBook for an extra helping hand!

If you are looking for private and in-company MSP courses then please call us on +44 (0)1273 622272 to discuss your requirements.

Will there be work outside of MSP® Practitioner Conversion training hours?

We will send you the MSP® Manual and some pre-course work to be completed before the training begins. This is just to check that the theory learned on the Foundation course is still fresh in your mind - meaning the course time can be better spent on the practical applications of MSP! Up to 13 hours of pre-course reading is the recommended study time.

You will be given homework in the form of Sample Practitioner Papers and you may also wish to do additional reading in the evening as preparation for the next day.

Please ensure you keep your social diary free during the course so that you are able to complete work during the evenings.

On the second day of your training course you will sit an open book 2.5 hour exam which has a 40/80 pass mark.

This qualification requires updating every 5 years and delegates can apply to take the re-registration examination with Silicon Beach Training.

By passing the MSP Practitioner exam, you attain ‘Registered Practitioner’ status.

We are so confident in our trainers that if you don't pass your exam first time you can re-sit the training for free. Exam fees are charged at cost price and you must take the training within 6 months of your original course.
